

Quick-Start Guide to Relationships

Focus First on Your Most Important Relationship

Above all other relationships, it's important to put God first in all you do. As you seek to know and find him, all other relationships will be put into perspective and begin to fall in place (Matthew 6:33).

Forgive

Forgive as an act of your will and obedience, not your feelings. Forgive by faith (Mark 11:22-26).

Stand Against Strife & Envy

Strife and envy bring about confusion and every evil work (James 3:16). Become a peacemaker, even if it means losing an argument (Matthew 5:9).

Walk In Love

You can't make other people change, but you can get yourself in line, ready for the change you're believing to come. Approach everyone in the spirit of love, both in word and deed (1 John 4:7).

Commit to Live Honorably & Uprightly

God is looking for people to move through—to be a witness to unbelievers and believers alike. Cleanse your life of any dishonesty or dishonor and prepare yourself to do The LORD's work (2 Timothy 2:15-21).

Partner Up

None of us can do this on our own. We need each other. And when we join in partnership with another in commitment and prayer, we share each other's grace and anointings (Philippians 1:6-7) — so we're moving ahead with power.

But whether there are prophecies, they will fail; whether there are tongues, they will cease; whether there is knowledge, it will vanish away."

YOUR RELATIONSHIP-BUILDING PRAYER AND CONFESSION

Father, as I begin this journey to building relationships that last, open Your WORD to me and show me how I can approach my family, my brothers and sisters in Christ, my employer, and everyone I meet with Your love. Help me to make 1 Corinthinas 13:4-8 my guide. I declare by faith that I am patient and kind. I don't envy or boast. I am not proud or rude or self-seeking. I am not easily angered. I keep no record of wrongs. I don't delight in evil, but I rejoice in the truth. The love of God in me always protects, trusts, hopes and perseveres. And, I thank You, LORD, that Your love in me never fades out, becomes obsolete or comes to an end. It never fails!

*Today, LORD, I believe I receive a turnaround in my relationship with _____ Let the Light of Christ shine through me, ministering Your grace and love to them.
Thank You that our relationship is restored. In the Name of Jesus. Amen*
